REMARKS

1. In reference to our telephone conversation concerning a proposed Legion of Merit for [redacted] I am enclosing a form to be filled out, and also a sample form which has been completed for another individual who did receive the Legion of Merit. You will note that paragraph 30 is a significant portion. We will be able to fill out the remainder of the form if you will give us some words for paragraph 30 - Part V, and possibly a letter of appreciation from Mr. Lundahl or [redacted] which could be enclosed as part of the overall package. The sample that I am enclosing has several enclosures and this strengthens the case for award. It is suggested that you have someone prepare a draft on paragraph 30 for [redacted] and possibly he can take it from there upon his return from Europe.

STAT [redacted] was responsible for maintaining highly classified, STAT restricted access papers and correspondence of national importance for the highest level officials of the Department of Defense. [redacted] possessed sole responsibility for the control, reproduction, dissemination, security and retrieval of these documents.

Inherent in his responsibilities was the requirement to provide guidance on security classification and control procedures, coordinate action papers, issue proper routing instructions, prepare and secure documents for meetings of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, coordinate and effect timely release of sensitive documents, and expedite the flow of staff papers during critical periods. Through [redacted] organi- STAT zational efforts, this highly important and exacting service was provided by members of his team on a continuous 24 hour a day, every day basis. In accomplishing these challenging duties [redacted] STAT demonstrated mature judgement coupled with unquestioned integrity and absolute discretion.

STAT [redacted] performance of duty, which was often under severe pressures of operational necessity, was consistently characterized by smooth efficiency, high dedication, dynamic leadership and constant security awareness blended with a uniquely appropriate degree of tact and diplomacy essential to meaningful staff support at the highest echelons of the Department of Defense. On countless occasions the officials who benefited from his dedicated service expressed their complete confidence in him, and appreciation for his conscientious attention to detail, absolute discretion, and enthusiastic cooperation in every task.

STAT [redacted] further demonstrated considerable organizational ability.
He developed an invaluable filing and cross reference system which provides almost instantaneous retrieval of documents, with an associated determination of prior dissemination and identification of persons authorized access to the documents. This system has continually demonstrated its value in meeting exacting requirements imposed by senior DoD officials during periods of time - urgent decision making.

Cont'd Part V, Item 30

STAT [redacted] In the course of carrying out these delicate responsibilities, [redacted] demonstrated an outstanding talent to inspire, train and direct the activities of the junior officers from the three Services working under his supervision. Their performance reflected his enthusiasm, dedication and zeal. Their limited military service notwithstanding, [redacted] team of officers were able to work confidently with senior officials, providing them significant and highly satisfying service. Senior officials commented most favorably on the esprit, morale, and dedication of these young officers. Their team effort was truly remarkable in that the officials served were often unable to distinguish any variations among the team members in terms of efficiency, attitude, and responsiveness.

STAT [redacted] outstanding performance in a Defense assignment of National importance made a unique contribution to the effectiveness of the Department of Defense.

SUBJECT: Performance of DIAXX-3

For the past three months my office has been working on a classified project which has required considerable liaison with other offices in OSD, the JCS, and the Services. This liaison has required reproduction of large quantities of highly-classified material, control of the material, and distribution of the material by courier; DIAXX-3 furnished all of these services in an outstanding manner.

STAT We have been particularly impressed by the performance, knowledge, attention to duty, and willingness displayed by Major [redacted] Our requirements have necessitated their doing much extra work during this project -- always cheerfully, always on time, and always correctly. Their performance merits a hearty Well Done.

MEMORANDUM FOR DIRECTOR, DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

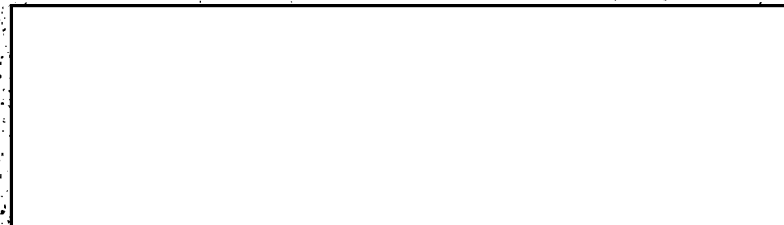

SUBJECT: Performance of Duty of [REDACTED]

STAT

I understand that [REDACTED] of the Special Activities Office will be reassigned in the near future. STAT

My purpose in this memorandum is to express our appreciation for the outstanding manner in which [REDACTED] has supported the activities of this office. Since July 1968 this office has become increasingly involved in the detailed staffing of highly classified and sensitive material for the decision of the Secretary of Defense and his Deputy. The nature of the material dictates its close control and distribution. Further, time urgent activities of this office and the Office of the Secretary of Defense often required reproduction and dissemination of this material, generally on short notice. [REDACTED] never faltered. He quickly grasped the scope of each task, frequently offering timesaving suggestions and in all instances faultlessly accomplishing his mission. The sensitivity of the material required that its contents be limited to a small number of persons, regardless of rank or position. [REDACTED] integrity was impeccable. STAT

In the course of his assignment [REDACTED] performed a significant service to OSD and he is worthy of high commendation and recognition for demonstrating outstanding professional competence, maturity and devotion to duty. STAT
